

Activity 1 — The suspicious DM

This direct message has 4 red flags. Mark them and write in the margin which one each is.

DM – message request from @mati.skater.08 (no followers in common)

hey! found you through the game group, i'm 14 just like you haha. saw your stories, you're really cool

hey can i tell you something? but keep it between us, don't tell anyone in the group

send me a pic of you right now, come on, you can't see your face well in the ones you post hurry up i have to go!! if you don't send it i'll think we're not real friends 😊

Hint: the 4 red flags from class. How many show up here?

Activity 2 — The 4 red flags, from memory

Without looking at the screen or the previous activity: fill in the 4 red flags. Any one of them = cut off and tell.

✓ Answer key (for the teacher)

Activity 1: (1) asks for secrecy ("keep it between us"); (2) asks for photos; (3) rushes ("hurry up"); (4) pressures with guilt ("i'll think we're not real friends") — a variant of pressure/manipulation. Bonus: a new account with no contacts in common that claims to be "your same age" connects to slide 14: a profile can lie about everything.

Activity 2: 1) secrets · 2) photos or personal data · 3) rushing/pressure · 4) meeting alone.
